

need a COVID-19 test?

Before heading straight to urgent care or the emergency department, consider one of these quicker and cheaper options:

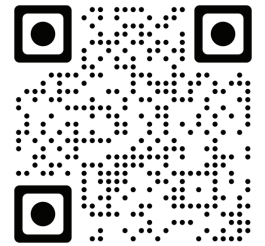

Call the child's primary care physician first.

As the child's medical home, the doctor may want to see the child or issue the order for a test.

Schedule a virtual visit with Dayton Children's Kids Express.

If you can't get into your pediatrician you can do a virtual visit online with Kids Express from the comfort of your couch. It keeps a potentially ill child at home, advises on other possible illnesses and directs you to the right testing location. All results and information are returned to the primary care provider you choose. Visit childrensdayton.org/saveyourspot to schedule a visit from 8:00 am to 8:00 pm.

Pay out of pocket for a test.

If you just want a quick test without an order and don't mind paying out of pocket, head to the Dayton Children's drive-thru testing tent on Valley Street. The cost is $100.

If symptoms are severe or concerning, go to one of Dayton Children's emergency departments. This is the right place for urgently needed care.
